

The World

Published by the Press Publishing Company.

TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 15.

SUBSCRIPTION TO THE EVENING EDITION.

(Including Postage.)

PER MONTH.....30c.

PER YEAR.....$3.00.

VOL. 29.....NO. 10,010

Entered at the Post-Office at New York as second-class mail matter.

104,473,650

Worlds

Printed During 1888.

THIS AVERAGES

OVER 2 MILLIONS A WEEK,

OR 285,447 COPIES PER DAY.

Comparisons Establish Value!

NOW THEN

This is a larger number of papers than any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

It is more than double the number of

any one paper has ever printed during 1888.

A SUCCESS, OF COURSE.

Six School-Rooms Crowded at the Opening Free Lectures.

Workingmen with their Wives Present in Force.

The Secrets of "The Human Machine-Shop" Disclosed.

Stereoscopic Views Illustrate Popular Addresses on Science and Art.

At last the workmen and women of New York have their free lectures.

They were begun last evening in six of the public schools in various parts of the city, and the large attendance at each one leaves no room for doubt that the project which was originated by THE EVENING WORLD and carried through by its untiring and persistent efforts will meet with the success that it promised.

The great majority of those who were present at the six lectures last evening were evidently the workmen and their wives.

The regular average of THE EVENING WORLD for 1888 (240,320 copies) leaves two and a half times that of the N. Y. Sunday Herald, over double that of the N. Y. Sunday Sun, and more than 50,000 in excess of the Sunday Sun, Tribune and Times COMBINED.

$10,000.00 (cash) will be paid to any person who will get an exact and verified statement from the other newspapers of their respective circulations.

THE POOL-SELLERS NEXT.

T-HEY WILL RECEIVE EARLY ATTENTION IN WEST TWENTY-EIGHTH STREET.

The proprietress of an Alleged Disorderly House Held for Examination at Jefferson Market To-day—Two Detectives Waited Patiently Until Early Morning for Her to Come Home.

There will be no let up in the war on the disorderly houses in West Twenty-eighth street.

Detectives Powers and McConnell, of Capt. Reilly's command, visited the house at No. 44, kept by Mrs. Kate Havens, last Saturday evening, and from the evidence in their possession swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Havens, the proprietress.

When the officers went to the house last night Mrs. Havens was missing, having gone out in the afternoon leaving the house in charge of the servants. Capt. Reilly left one of his men on guard, and he remained there all night.

Early this morning Mrs. Havens entered the Thirtieth street station-house and gave herself up. She was taken to the Jefferson Market Police Court, and arraigned before Justice Patterson.

The detectives charged her with keeping a disorderly house, and through her counsel, Lawyer Steiner, she pleaded not guilty.

Capt. Reilly, the petitioner of the property-owners of the neighborhood, who had complained of the house. The signers are all reputable people, several of them being physicians and one a bank president.

Miss Havens was calm, and when Judge Patterson set bail at $1,000 a well-known merchant offered to go on the bond, but as he had no real estate he was not accepted and a messenger was sent for somebody else.

Mrs. Havens told the judge that she had already devoted to the house all the money she had, and she would have to pay the rent demanded for the premises.

Myra Burton, a pretty blonde who was arrested in the house, told Justice Patterson that she was a married woman, and had only been in the house a month. She said she was perfectly respectable and that she never saw anything wrong going on in the place, or she would have moved out. She lived on the third floor, she said. She was discharged.

To an EVENING WORLD reporter Mrs. Havens said that she kept a perfectly respectable place. She said that the two detectives called at the house and asked for one of her boarders, whom they claimed to know. She came down into the parlor, and the men afterwards sent outside for wine. She denied that the officers had visited any room in the house except the parlor.

She said that she had had seven gentlemen lodging in the house for the past year, a family consisting of man, wife, child and maid, and that there was never any disturbance in the house. The lights were all turned out and the house was quiet before 11 o'clock every night.

The next move in the street will be made in the direction of the pool sellers. Mr. Day says that now he has cleaned the street of loose women. He is a bachelor and is frequently seen in society, but his life is that of a quiet and steady business man.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

A School-Teacher's Horrible Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

Boston, Jan. 15.—Kate L. Herran, about forty years of age, a school-teacher in Belmont, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon jumped from a fourth-story window at her boarding-house, 70 Myrtle street, this city, and sustained a compound fracture of the right thigh and skull and the bones of both jaws were broken. She was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where she died at 7 o'clock in the evening. Temporary insanity was the alleged cause.

UNDER MIRTH'S CANOPY.

THE DAILY WORKING OF THE FUNNY PENS AND PENCILS.

Breaking the News.

Mrs. Croche—My dear, I want to ask you what you think of Jack Whitley? He has been paying Lulu marked attention lately.

Papa—I think it is a very nice thing for a young man to do. It is the first thing he ever said in his life!

Appropriate to the Deed.

Gen. Greely sends a new pencil to write his hurricane predictions.

The New Exile Law.

The clerk of the weather seems to be getting up some exile laws of his own.

Our Order Is at Albany.

Insurance Commissioner Merrill rules out the "Order of Solons" as illegal in Massachusetts.

A Wife's Thoughtfulness.

Mrs. Bionce—I suppose that new grand piano was Mr. Ferguson's present to you.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.

The editor of the Kansas City Star.

Very Kind.

Miss Smith to her friend Miss Barr, who has made her debut at a musical entertainment.

Miss Barr—Yes, it was very nice of him.

A Little Kansas Grammar.